TWO-WHEEL CAFE SURVIVAL GUIDE

Fair Warning!

This is a bar... it happens to be a bar with a really great restaurant attached, but it's still a bar. It's not church, and it's not boy-scout camp. We won't tolerate anyone acting like a complete schmuck, but if you are of the thinner-skinned variety, there is a chance you may be exposed to some things that are politically incorrect and/ or mildly offensive. These things include, but are not limited to: drinking, smoking, cussing, loud music, off-color jokes, bad karaoke, awkward dancing, heated political debates, girls with tattoos, guys with ponytails, old men telling lies, and the devouring of tasty animals.

Who's Welcomed Here?

Almost everyone. Almost. We've managed to attract an eclectic crowd you won't believe until you see for yourself: soldiers, salesmen, bikers, bankers, plumbers, preachers, suits and ties, shorts and flip-flops, strollers, wheelchairs, BMWs, mopeds.... we've seen 'em all. It would be easier to tell you who WON'T be getting the red-carpet treatment: Loud-mouthed know-it-alls, known trouble-makers, poorly-behaved children, religious fanatics, chronic complainers, anyone with the nickname "Cowboy," creepy stalkers, the ALPHABET people (FBI, ALE, IRS, etc.), sloppy drunks, disgruntled ex-employees, and Duke fans during Tarheel games.

Are We "Kid-Friendly?"

Children are more than welcome, in fact, we like to get them hooked early so they'll become regulars later on! However, please consider the timing of your visit and what they may see or hear (refer to tip #1: THIS IS A BAR). Also, please don't let them run amuck or disturb the peace. Babbling babies are absolutely adorable in Pampers commercials, not quite so much in a restaurant. We have a zero-tolerance policy for temper-tantrums and no playing in traffic!

About Our Food

If you're in a big hurry, this place is not for you. We do GOOD food, not FAST food, and everything is 100% made to order, so please be patient! Our menu is HUGE, so sometimes we run out of stuff. Don't panic. Look at it as an opportunity to try something new. I promise you, the world will not end because we don't have any buffalo chicken dip.

Reservations

We're just a small place that operates on a first-come-first-serve basis. We do not accept any reservations. Ever. Never. Even if you call and speak to someone, you still do not have a reservation. And do you know why? Because we don't take reservations.

Large Parties (8 or more)

Look around and you'll see that we're not well equipped to handle large groups, so PLEASE PLEASE PLEASE if you've got a party of 8 or more give us a heads-up. A simple phone call and a few hours notice goes a long way to helping us seat and serve you. We'll be glad to split your bill in half, or loan you a calculator to figure it out, but NO SEPARATE CHECKS.

Payments

Cash is king. It's the fastest and easiest way to settle up and creates far less paperwork for me than credit cards. All menu prices listed are CASH prices. Credit card payments will be subject to a 3% surcharge. Not fair? Let me put it in perspective: How would you like it if you came in and ordered a hamburger and I delivered it 24-72 hours later with a bite taken out of it? Credit card fees hurt the small businessperson. They hurt me. Ouch. Why would you want to hurt me?

Take-Out Orders

Take-out orders are available, but not guaranteed. Our dine-in customers will always be our #1 priority, so if we have a full house, we won't be able to accommodate any call-ins. This is solely at MY discretion, so don't give my servers any grief about it; and as a rule: NO TAKE-OUT ON FRIDAYS. So please don't call and ask... especially don't call repeatedly.. and especially, especially, especially do not drive on down here to place an order in person when we've already told you NAY over the phone.

Cell Phones

We're not going to compete for your attention while you are calling, texting, Snapchatting, Facebooking, Instagramming, Tweeting, or playing Candy Crush. When our sever comes to take your order, put the phone down or you will lose your place in line.

This is Not Your House

We'll be happy to try and make you as comfortable as possible, but this is MY house... don't mess with the thermostat or the TVs, don't leave the water running in the rest room, don't throw trash on the floor, and don't rearrange the furniture... you can do all of that at YOUR house.

Special Orders and Extras

Order whatever you like... as much cheese, as much bacon, and as much ranch dressing as you want... we won't judge; but we WILL have to charge you for it.

Tipping

Please don't even make me say it: TIP YOUR SERVERS AND BARTENDERS! They do this for a living and they're damn good at it. Any delay in service comes directly from me in the kitchen, so please tip according to the quality of your service and not on how quickly you got in and out of here.

Miscellaneous Tips from Heidi

Be realistic. If you're looking for a quick bite to eat, don't come in at 7PM on a Friday.

Don't assume that I can always remember "how you like it." I'm pretty damned good, but if you don't like tomato, for Pete's sake tell your server.

If you tell me to "surprise you" you won't get fed.... SURPRISE!!! We have a big menu. Pick something.

Don't be a whiner... nobody likes a whiner.

No camping. If you've finished your meal and you see that there are others waiting for a table, please move your long-overdue catch-up session with your pals out to the patio or over to the bar.

Please don't bring your own food or drinks in. In case you haven't noticed we serve tasty food and beverages of our own.

This isn't a health-food joint. If you think that carbs, fat, salt, or gluten are the devil, you're probably in the wrong place.

You get what you give in here, so be nice.

Regulars do often get preferential, special treatment... that's why they're regulars.

Please don't be "that guy" who always tries to slide his order in under the wire at last call (ahem, David Stubbs). We have posted hours... please respect them.

Don't ask me where I learned how to cook... I have no idea how to cook, I've just got everyone fooled.
